

Roy Gates, Midnight Sun 2.0

I was travelling the longest way
To keep your body all this time today
Through these frozen days
If you were screaming would call my name

Midnight sun /4x

Like a flower never knows its name
An icy hour never passed in vain

You draw the curtains on another day
But still the light keeps you awake

Midnight sun 3x