Roy Orbison, Afraid To Sleep

The night is still the wind is chilled I hear the rain falling on my window pane

Can't close my eyes, afraid to sleep Cause when I do I would only dream of you

I'm trying to forget that we ever met But how can I forget and dream of you?

Afraid to sleep because I'd dream of you Afraid to sleep because I'd wake up feeling blue If I stay awake forever,we'd never be together So I'll close my eyes and go ahead and dream

Sweet dreams Sweet dreams Sweer dreams....
