

Roy Orbison, Domino (Alt Version)

(Orbison)

ROY ORBISON (Sun, 1956)

There's a cat in town that you might know

Goes by the name of Domino

A long key chain and a diamond ring

A blue sport car, he's a crazy king

That guy can go

That cat called Domino, Domino, Domino

Well the girls all think that he's a real gone guy

They all flip when he walks by

Long sideburns and cool white shoes

Ready to go and never sings the blues

That guy can go

That cat called Domino, Domino, Domino

Well he's six foot two with a real dark tan

Got all the women in the palm of his hand

Coal black hair and a solid style

Baby blue eyes and a crazy smile

That guy can go

That cat called Domino, Domino, Domino

Well Domino, fool man's gold

Domino, oh-oh

Domino, fool man's gold

Domino, oh-oh

Well Domino, cool man go, Domino, they love him so

That cat called Domino, Domino, Domino
