

Roy Orbison, Lillian

They criticise me for loving you, for seeing you
Giving no reason, they don't know you Lillian
Be a mystic figure, shed your feelings from within Let it go unnoticed where you've been Lillian

So take from me what I have to give
For I have taken from you
The crystal world in which you live
Shall fall and tumble too

Let me see, set you free
From the life you live
You have shared, Lillian

I know not why you want me
But I know why I want you
I don't need a reason
It's just you, Lillian

So take from me what I have to give
For I have taken from you
The crystal world in which you live
Shall fall and tumble too

And let you see, set you free
From the life you live
You have shared, Lillian
