

Roy Orbison, Love Is A Cold Wind

(Black/Bourke)

Love is a cold wind
When it blows away from you
As you watch it go, it hurts to know
There's nothing you can do
You're all alone again
And love is a cold wind

Love is a rain storm
But it only rains on you
And there's no one there who seems to care
No one to pull you through
And inside you're never warm
'Cause love is a rain storm

But when she was here
Love was a breezy morning
Filled with the sun
Warm as her smile
But now it's done

Love is a cold wind as it blows away from
So you find your way, to yesterday
What else is there to do
You're all alone again and love is a cold wind

But when she was here
Love was a breezy morning
Filled with the sun
Warm as her smile
But now it's done

Love is a cold wind
As it blows away from you
As you watch it go
It hurts to know
There's nothing you can do
And you're all alone again and love is a cold wind

You're all alone again and love is a cold wind.
