

Roy Orbison, Loving Touch

You've got the loving touch that I need so much
You've got the loving touch that I need so much
No matter how I try your love I couldn't buy Cause I need so much of your love

I've got the world at my fingers and it stands at my feet
I can fly to the moon or I can sleep in the street there's nothing in this world I couldn't do
I get all that I want just by the wave of a hand
There's nothing on earth that won't obey my command and now I find that all I need is you

Repeat chorus

I could give the world for you to hold and you know I could Everything I'd touch would turn to gold and you know it would
But I need something else that's only yours for the giving
I need something else to make my life worth living

Repeat chorus 2 times
