

Roy Orbison, Take Care Of Your Woman

Take care of your woman, don't treat her mean
Make her feel like a woman and she won't ever leave

When She's walking in the darkness, be the light she needs
Give her dreams for tomorrow and she won't ever leave

Take care of your woman and make her know that you care
Let her know that you love her, you want her, you need her and she'll always be right there

Through the storms of emotion be the calm that she needs

Be a rock of devotion and she will never leave

Take care of your woman and make her know that you care
Let her know that you love her, you want her, you need her and she'll always be right there

Through the storms of emotion be the calm that she needs
Be a rock of devotion and she will never leave
