

Roy Orbison, The Clown

Orbison/McGill

I was a clown when I thought I had found a love for me and only me but she laughed at the clown turned him down turned him down I never frown ah, ah, ah, I'm the clown for it breaks my heart I play the part of a clown runnin round trouble bound I'm the clown
I wander all around wondering if you ever cared I go from place to place, I look from face to face hoping that you will be there All over town the word is out It's all around that I love her still guess I always will I'm the clown runnin round trouble bound I'm the clown
