

Royal Blood, Waves

I could waste every night
Throw it all on the fire
I could fade it, I might
Disappear right behind you

But where would I go? What would I take?
If you ever find me, fight away
Don't let me choke, I got nothing to save
If you ever lose me down under the waves

I could trip, I could slide
And leave you none the wiser
I could give up the fight
Disappear right behind you

But where would I go? What would I take?
If you ever find me, fight away
Don't let me choke, I got nothing to save
If you ever lose me down under the waves
