

Ruarri Joseph, More Than Most

Its not unusual to see
A dirty great cloud up ahead of me
A wiser man would let it be
But a younger man would disagree

And though I do not have a clue
I give more love than most men do
Brighter stars will wander through
But I give more love than most men do
Round in circles back to you
I give more love than most men do
What gets done wont ever do
But I give more love than most men do
With no less heart and no less time
And all opposed can say goodbye.

So intent to grab the wheel
The right direction stays concealed
A smarter man would look ahead
But I just go by my gut instead

And though I do not have a clue
I give more love than most men do
Brighter stars will wander through
But I give more love than most men do
Round in circles back to you
I give more love than most men do
What gets done wont ever do
But I give more love than most men do
With no less heart and no less time
And all opposed can say goodbye.
