

Ruarri Joseph, Tomorrow Today

Carry me weightless with worry undone
Tired companion to tales that we spun
And spare no remorse for the things you become
In the hope of tomorrow, today

Dont close your ears to the sorrow within Promises crack but eternally spin
Pass me my raincoat, the tides coming in
With the hope of tomorrow, today

Hand in hand, side by side
Arm in arm and mind in mind

Send for direction in derelict times
Guidance and duty will open your eyes
Trust that your ego is just a disguise
In the hope of tomorrow, today

Try as we mat to be selfless and true
Greed gets so hungry it finishes you
So fall on horizons that carry you through
In the hope of tomorrow today

Hand in hand, side by side
