

Rubyhorse, Sparkle

Through the clouds
A nice surprise
To see the twinkle returning to your eyes
I searched my head
For some old spark
Fell around the place, stumbling in the dark
And when I feel the skies will never clear
You remind me spring is near
How you sparkle, how you shine
How you rise above the sky
And you rise, and you rise
Through the crowd
I catch your eye
Takes me back again, when we were getting high
I searched my head
For some old spark
Fell about the place, fumbling in the dark
And when I feel the skies will never clear
You remind me spring is near
How you sparkle, how you shine
How you rise above the sky
And you rise, and you rise
And nothing in this world could make me love you less
But shadows often leave perfection in a mess
Oh my love, oh my lord
Oh my love, oh my lord
How you sparkle, how you shine
How you rise above the sky
