Rufus, Egyptian Song

Sweet song singin' take me back (I wanna go) Sweet song singin' take me back (I wanna go) Sweet song singin' take me back (I wanna go) Sweet song singin' take me back (I wanna go)

Here's to, to a long forgotten dream Enshrouded by, by a history so clean In a place still the same, so rich with time I remain in my heart, my soul, my mind

So clear is the mystery to me So majestic, yet electric, dose of age I see There remains a sparkle in the sand Can't restrain these feelings of my ancient land

Here is a melody for you Sky of white and nylon blue Let me hurry home to you To sing, to dance, to laugh

Embrace So vague is this picture I am seeing

Yet so clear, and so dear my soul is singin' To belong is this feelin? I am missin?

To embrace this memory I been kissin' So clear is this mystery to me So majestic, yet electric, guest of age I see There remains a sparkle in the sand

Can?t restrain these feelings of my ancient land Here is a melody for you Sky of white and nylon blue Let me hurry home to you

To sing, to dance, to laugh Embrace I wanna go Sweet song singin' take me back

I wanna go Sweet song singin' take me back
