

Run Level Zero, Take Charge darkness down there appears absolute it's the darkest of all pits unholy daemons taking charge vomiting stagnant water my veins, sweeping landscapes dripping oil, finding peace wonders of life, singing poems subhuman twisted deity the restricting boundaries of sanity the restricting rules of society the oppressive constraints of reality the oppressive force of morality marathons of playful agony shape my life, end my days your philosophy, mutilated spreading it's deadly limbs shield me from depravity random patterns, flashing lights pragmatic views of the tomorrow eyes turned to pitch-black stone
