Runemagick, One Road To Megiddo

(Music: N. Rudolfsson) (Lyrics: Whiplasher Europa)

The paths lie empty so silent so young The Pleiades lick the roads with a silvery tongue

The distance shrieks and icons crack Never was forever but now that time is back

.When death rolls upon the table of the gods!

Breathe in damnation Equilibrium falls for my temptation Utopia decays Demons and angels stand face to face

One road to Megiddo Chaos cries and cherubs die for the lord of flies One road to Megiddo Spit on time's hand; bite the lands with the fire's fangs Megiddo Breakdown

Morning comes as death Hovering upon the Westside path The altar is crushed And so heaven was blood and blood was rust

And the fields crawl in ashes And shields break for the whiplashes And the juxtaposed worlds collide It's like dagger in the head of a child

Breathe in damnation Equilibrium falls for my temptation Utopia decays Demons and angels stand face to face
