

Runga Bic, Suddenly Strange

Fire inside my shoes
Still walking forward
But back to you
I suppose I must be stuck with you again
This joke is wearing thin
I know it's time
I know it's time to go
Just so you know
This secret part of me never shows
And when you run around like you don't care
I'm suddenly aware
I know it's time
I know it's time
It's suddenly strange
I can hardly complain
I'm down the stairs
And out the door
It's suddenly cooler
It bowled me right over
And down again
I suppose it's over now
Don't ask me how
But it didn't take much
To figure out
And you know I'll go acting really tough
And giving back your stuff
I know it's time
I know it's time
It's suddenly strange
I can hardly complain
I'm down the stairs and out the door
It's suddenly cooler
It bowled me right over
And down again
I suppose it's over now
And you know I'll go acting really tough
And giving back your stuff
I know it's time
I know it's time
It's suddenly strange
I can hardly complain
I'm down the stairs and out the door
It's suddenly cooler
It bowled me right over
And down again
I suppose it's over now
Fire inside my shoes
It's over now
