

Russell Crowe & 30 Odd Foot Of Grunts, Other W

(Crowe,Cochran)

I can't tell, if I want to know,
What's on your mind,
Should I just go.
It's a long way down from here
I better start with the stairs
It's a long way down from here

You know there's other ways of speaking
Words are just the deep end
I'm not good at keeping secrets from you

But I can't tell, if I want to know,
What's on your mind,
Should I just go.
It's a long way down from here
I better start with the stairs,
It's a long way down from here

You know there's other ways of speaking,
I can read you when you're sleeping
I can feel you when you're breathing
And breaking in two

But I can't tell, if I want to know
What's on your mind
Should I just go.
It's a long way down from here,
I better start with the stairs
It's a long way down from here

You know there's other ways of speaking
Words are just the deep end
I'm not good at keeping your secrets from you
