

Ryan Adams, Captain Smith

my heart is sinking fast just like the titanic my heart is pumping blood that's turning blue well, i just want this cruise and i just can't imagine i'm drowning and it's all because of you just as cold as ice ripped into my bough drifted off in moonlight while my ship was goin down this cruise alone might be my last and i can't even fathom why you left me alone to drown

captain would you please go warn the crew well, everything is built to last, but it don't last forever i'm sorry but the end is coming soon

and i can't even fathom
why you left me alone to drown
