

Ryan Adams & the Cardinals, Go Easy

I watch the evening grow old
And I watch the sun grow tired
Collapsing into the meadowlands
Funny how I still hear that voice
Sometimes it's like it's so loud
I only hear a ringing sound
If only to say this to you now
I love you still and I always will
If only to say this to myself
I will always love you
I will always love you
So go easy on yourself

Go easy
Go easy

You would like those flowers on the hills
And the sunlight in the fall even the coyotes call
Funny how my mind counts each day
By the times I've thought of you
Funny how the numbers sway
If only to say this to you now
I love you still and I always will
If only to say this to myself
I will always love you
I will always love you
So go easy on yourself

Go easy
Go easy
Go easy
Go easy
Gotta go, gotta now
Gotta go, gotta now
Gotta go, gotta now
Gotta go, gotta now
Gotta go, gotta now
Gotta go, gotta now
Gotta go, gotta now
