

Ryan Harvey, I Won't Be Part Of It!

Rock the vote

Nope

I'd rather sink the boat

And do anything I can to bring justice to this land

Vote for a democrat

Nope

I know it gets better than that

And I'm not gonna compromise, all politicians are full of lies

It's not one man

Who shakes the iron hand

It's the system and it's war machines, the courts, prisons and, armories

For private gain.

You best start rioting

Because the president's just the start of it,

The lies, the war...

I won't be part of it!

For 500 years

Same slaves, same rusty gears

And all the poor have gained, bigger cells and longer chains

And less to eat

Forget the laws

Get in the street

The police are very strong, but that won't last very long

It's not a mystery

Look at our history

Rebellion works just fine you just gotta hold the line

We need to educate

Rebel and penetrate

Dig deep into the hear of it

And hit em where it hurts

I won't be part of it!

Slavery

Converted into "bravery"

What is now "selective service" used to be "indentured servant"

It's this "braveness"

That killed the natives

Small pox and diseases now we've all got SUVs

And it's disgusting

The paint is rusting

As the factories all change places to pay workers lower wages

Little colonies

Cut down all the olive trees

There's sweatshops so Wal-Mart is rich

The system calls it "growth"

I won't be part of it!

Free trade

You better have your fees payed

Or some company will come and buy up everything you own

And jack the prices

Each move decisive

Full-world domination, military occupation

Starve your citizens

Just to get rid of them

If they raise up their voices maybe ask for better choices

Who will lead them

Who will feed them

We were friends when the arms were sent

And now they're fighting back

I won't be part of it!
