

Ryan Tedder, Back To Me

You have been wondering
What will become of this love
And its causing you to worry
I can assure you
Youre the only one I dream of
Youre safe within my arms
Thru all the times I needed you right here beside me
I knew youd always be there
With your love to guide me
Climb any mountain
Fly to the heavens
Beyond where the eyes can see
At the end you will find
A road leading back to me
There have been times when
Youd go out searching for what
You thought you had been missing
You didnt know that the love you had
Was enough to keep the fire burning
With all the pain and heartache
This world can cause you
I will always be there with my love to guide you
Climb any mountain
Fly to the heavens
Beyond where the eyes can see
At the end you will find
A road leading back to me
I would be stranded without you
Like a ship thats been lost at sea
I know this love will bring you
A road that leads right back to me, to me, to me
Climb any mountain
Fly to the heavens
Beyond where the eyes can see
At the end you will find
A road leading back
At the end you will find
A road leading back
A road leading back to me
