

Ryker's, Loyalty

those hours... those memories the feelings that we shared loyalty has become meaningless in relation to what you've dared
in relation to what you've dared! i needed someone to talk to someone who had faith in me now there's no one i can turn to without risking my integrity you got no soul no respect for the other you never cared
so why should i bother? why should i bother? i gave you all i had to give couldn't give you all you needed you cut me open watched me as i bled it's easy to forgive but it's so hard to forget it's easier to see how trust becomes regret regret!
it's never been like this i've never felt like this before my wounds are so deep the pain i can't ignore you've gone too far too far for far too long take your stand we'll see if you'll come along you played yourself foul and i can't even wish you well drop dead motherfucker for the lies you tell