Sabaton, Angels Calling (feat. Apocalyptica)

Sent to kill, to watch no man's land Snipers are moving unseen Fight for land, to lose it again

Shrapnel is filling the air

Hell on earth, the trenches mean death, better keep your head down low Charge their lines, the ultimate test it's a synchronized sacrifice

Get the wounded after dark Left alone in no man's land Maddening chaos at the front

Dream of heaven Angels are calling your name

Shells and guns, a rifle and scope Bullets are wearing your name Losing track of time and of space Midnight at sanity's edge

Losing friends to artillery shells, at the break of dawn Break their will, As yours has been broken, they're here alone, dream of home

Charge at dawn to gain a yard Scout at night to guard their lines Leave your life in fortunes hand

Dream of heaven Angels are calling your name

Hell on earth, the trenches mean death, better keep your head down low Charge their lines, the ultimate test it's a synchronized sacrifice

Know your time in hell has been served You won't return to home

Angels are calling your name