

Sabaton, Birds of war

The priesthood is trembling
The five knights of light has betrayed mankind
Now known as the dark ones
We strike down on earth with powers from hell

We ride on the wind we ride through the sky
Like unholy birds of war we fly
We bring agony and insanity
Once blessed by the light now serving the night
And soon cursed by every man on earth
We follow our lust, in no god we trust

Come join us

Leave this world behind and you will find satisfaction
Fight on our side you cannot hide from us forever more

Once greeted as heroes
Now treated as foes wherever we go
Recruiting more warriors
The hordes of undead march on our command

Now mankind will pay from this every day
Every man on earth will curse his birth
We spread fear and pain resistance in vain
We march in the dark your kind is our mark
Avoid the daylight in dark we fight
We'll control your souls you'll end up like ghouls

Come join us

Leave this world behind and you will find satisfaction
Fight on our side you cannot hide from us forever more

We ride on the wind we ride through the sky
Like unholy birds of war we fly
We bring agony and insanity
Once blessed by the light now serving the night
And soon cursed by every man on earth
We follow our lust, in no god we trust

Come join us

Leave this world behind and you will find satisfaction
Fight on our side you cannot hide from us forever more