

Sacramentum, Far Away From The Sun

(Music: Brolycke, Rudolfsson)

Lyrics: Karlen)

I travel as I sleep,

funeral silence is cast over me.

As I sleep I feel the night embrace me and I float under a black sky without stars.

I have seen the eternity,

I have seen the eons rise in my dreams.

Light of heaven is fading away,

as I fly away from the sun.

I feel the ocean of chaos surrounding my soul

and I hear a voice speak softly:

- Reach for thy goal!

Once again I feel the ocean of chaos

penetrate my soul.

I entered a mystical grey dreamviod which I had no access to.

The atmosphere were dim and cold,

harmonic with it's purple.

I flew through a stunning beautiful landscape of frozen forests.

A building began to rise far in the distant,

where the sky meets the sea.

In the faint horizon

a castle began to take form surrounded by icemountains.

The castle of myself.

As I drifted closer I knew I was there,

in my divine dimension

that my visions had shown me for years.

This time my journey was forever,

I knew there was no turning back.

I had found the castle of myself and I fell asleep far away from the sun.

(To be continued...)