

Sacrifice, Beneath What You See

In life there are people that I cannot understand
I refuse to give into all that you demand You cannot see into me, and I cannot see in you Beneath what you see is someone that you thought you knew

Beneath what you see
Is someone you can't control

Alone I wait for someday to change this If no one came to help me they would not be missed This is what lies on other side of the wall that separates A line that when is crossed, it's already too late

Beneath what you see
Is someone that you can't control
You cannot understand
I am in command

Running in circles, my world has gone mad Wanting things that I know I can never have Always addicted to something that will destroy Always watching you driving me paranoid

Beneath what you see
Is someone that you can't
control
Beneath what you see
Is someone that will destroy All that used to be Has changed to me