

Saga, Blind Side Of Your Heart

Where were you hiding and when did you know
You'd feel more safe inside a world of your own?
You're disappointed, you sure do wear it well
I can tell
You've got your reasons, still you remain
Behind the wall you built to keep out the pain

If you can wait until tomorrow
My guess is you will have everything you need

Imagine where you'd be today without me
Blind side of your heart
Let it out, there's no doubt
You'd be better off without the
Blind side of your heart

And when you wake up don't be surprised
What may be waiting when you open your eyes
This is the moment you've tried so hard to conceal
This is real

[repeat bridge]

[repeat chorus]

It's not too late to learn to live without the
Blind side of your heart
Given time, you may find
You don't need to hide behind the

Blind side of your heart
It's so much easier to see things through the
Blind side of your heart
But with eyes open wide
You'll discover what's inside the
Blind side of your heart
