

Saga, My Friend

The winter now is finally passed I'm re-acquainted with my dreams all that was done yesterday the things that I believed
I feel a new strength restored in me

I wonder what you're thinking now or if you even see
You wish that you could change the past
Have you taken all you need
I know that you're not laughing now

[chorus]
Many years have gone by my friend
So many miles down the road
The wheel still runs and I ride the spokes each new season brings

[chorus]
Darkness falls on behind me
I'm starting now to find my way
It's over now and you're nowhere near
I still can't hear your name
