Now I'm not sure I can wait another day 'cause I'm my own worst enemy There was a time I thought I knew the way but that's all ancient history Cause every time I feel that I am there I'm never where I want to be Tell me, " Why do I still dream about you? " I wonder where you'll be, when I'm gone. Now I know you are the one I guess you've always been the one I don't know why I run away every time I hear your name So maybe I should find another way It's time to come in from the rain " Why do I still dream about you? " I wonder where you'll be when I'm gone? Now I know you are the one I guess you've always been the one So, now I know you are the one Someone tell me who I've got to pay to help me find a remedy Now I'm not sure I can wait another day now I'm my own worst enemy Why do I still dream about you I wonder where you'll be, when I am gone?
