

Saigon Kick, Feel The Same Way

Saw the fire light. Had the same dream tonight.
Felt the fears of the endless night in the middle of the morning light.
We have disease gone crazy thoughts of revolution hazy.
Computer days are lazy.
I'm on the side of the man who's wiser.
I'm on the side with the gun that fires.
Lost a life tonight. Caused a little fright tonight.
Stole a dream of right.

Call me a man with a view that's wild.
Call me a man with a mind like a child's.
Can you feel the power? Watch them build the biggest tower.
Cry a little shower all in the site of a race that's leaving.
All for the right of a man you're killing.
