

Saint, Abyss

The battle happened in heaven
The battle happened a long time ago
Satan in a rage, I think it's something, we all should know
The devil took by side one third of I heaven to fall with him
And now the demons they cry and the false prophets burn with them
Well you know it's not safe to go out at night
Life in fear, that's your right
Welcome to abyss!
I hope you have fun
Look for the masquerader, look for the one who lied
He's dressed like Dr. Jeckil, but he's really Mr.Hyde
He wants to deceive you, he wants to drag you down besides
There is another choice and by His strength the dragon dies
And you know it's not safe to go out at night
His wrath comes so quick but my God never lies
So do you get the drift? About spiritual suicide
That comes with following the devil, he wants to see a genocide
He wants to rip off your flesh, he wants to poke out your eye
He's trying to get you in trouble and yes, he wants us all to die
But you know it's not safe to go out at night
His wrath comes so quick but my God never lies
Don't want to see you in abyss, you're not going to have fun
Forever is a long time when there ain't nowhere to run
Don't want to see you in abyss!
