

Saint Etienne, Downey California

Transcribed by Jeremiah Hayes dream home in downey, california palm trees

the sound of karen carpenter mother's holding baby baby's getting restless now looking for her mother

you don't, don't want to believe him now don't want to don't want to see him

eyes closed asleep in a crystal hideaway i stand they used to take the head away if she could tell the story frozen on her lips today she could tell her daughter

you want, want to believe him now you'll never you'll never feel

la-la-la-la-la-la

you want, you want to believe him now you'll never see see
