

Saint, The Reaper

Are you worried about the evil wars
Are you worried about the times
Have you seen Israel and Egypt go
They've drawn it to the line
The world we're living in today
It's getting down and out
I can't walk the streets at night
I want to scream and shout
Here comes the Reaper!
The Reaper flies across the sky
He's coming to the earth
The prophet's lying in the street
He's giving them new birth
He's blasting down the face of man
The wicked they are doomed
The rocks are falling on their heads
Can't you see the bloody gloom
Here comes the Reaper!
The Reaper opens another seal
Oh yes, there's more to come
The bee that fly with human face
They've got you on the run
I hope you haven't got that mark
They'll soon be chasing you
They're stinging everything in sight
Do you know what you're going to do?
Here comes the Reaper!
Oh fear the Reaper now my friend
You still have time to turn
Don't listen to what the devil says
He wants us all to burn
He tells you lies and fills your mind
With evil wicked things
But let The Reaper come on in
You'll find new life is what He brings
Here comes the Reaper!
You better fear His face
Here comes the Reaper!
