

Salamandra, Crusader

High on the bluffs ready to fight and to die, there is no time.
Neglected fear, anger and pain
It's the last war, it's in vain.

His promise is to truly fight on the side of Christian God and defending Lion Heart.
Still greed, meanness and the force brings the army to the loss and it's nearly half-destroyed.

Forsakem man in Holy land losing horse walking on foot.
Saving himself from Turkish rage and escaping with the gloom.

The knight is weak he lost his pride wandering on until he dies.
Reveals the truth about his sin
And he knows it's late to win.

Marching across the vasted land
knight is wounded wit no faith
trying to fing a runaway.
The sky is red with fiery signs
all hopes are now burned alive
and the glory left behind.

Forsakem man in Holy land losing horse walking on foot.
Saving himself from Turkish rage and escaping with the gloom.

The greed killed you, a crusader, the blood in your eyes.
You're guilty, a crusader, your soul soon dies.

Marching across the vasted land
knight is wounded wit no faith
trying to fing a runaway.
The sky is red with fiery signs
all hopes are now burned alive
and the glory left behind.

Forsakem man in Holy land losing horse walking on foot.
Saving himself from Turkish rage and escaping with the gloom.

The greed killed you, a crusader, the blood in your eyes.
You're guilty, a crusader, your soul soon dies.
The greed killed you, a crusader, the blood in your eyes.
You're guilty, a crusader, your soul soon dies.
You're guilty, a crusader