

Salamandra, Lost Life

Breathing once again her name and you well never know your son's face.
Hopeless in the darkest day nobody ever told you this fate.

Your soul's in the grave
and you go just alone
through the fog and clouds
going far and so far.

What you hoped so much
coming back your home
instead of that you are lying down
and why you must be here

No life just sorrow memories
No life just sorrow memories

Your heart is now lifeless and you are lying in the silence.
Your life has come to the end
The destiny that cannot be bent.

Your soul's in the grave
and you go just alone
going far and so far.

What you hoped so much
lying down

No life just sorrow memories
No life just sorrow memories
No life just sorrow memories

You're away from this world
your death is so useless
shadows cover your face
staying in the darkness.

You leave us forever
we lose you and never won't forget your face and you leave us now and once forever.

staying in the darkness.

You leave us forever
you leave us now and once forever.

No life just sorrow memories
And once forever
No life just sorrow memories
And once forever

No life just sorrow memories
And once forever
And once forever
