

Salamandra, The Coward / Hail the King

Why should I listen to
What you are narrating
No one will come to help
Nation gone blind

Nation gone deaf and blind
To what is taking place
In this exhausted land
Cowardly numb

I do not want to know the legend
Your hopes are just vanity's play
Give up all the dangerous dreams
If you wanna survive

Hail the king
If you know what is precious
Hail the king
If you hope for a future
Hail the king
I do not mind being humbled
Hail the king
Cowardly toady the king
Hail the king
If you know what is precious
Hail the king
If you hope for a future
Hail the king
I do not mind being humbled
Hail the king
Cowardly toady the king

I will never understand
What makes you so sure of
Your sudden salvation
By a brave old one

That legendary one
Should fight against evil
He will fight and release
All enslaved ones

Hail the king
If you know what is precious
Hail the king
If you hope for a future
Hail the king
I do not mind being humbled
Hail the king
You can call me a coward
Hail the king
If you know what is precious
Hail the king
If you hope for a future
Hail the king
I do not mind being humbled
Hail the king
