

Salem Hill, Catatonia

it seems to be that the only peace for me is a place I used to go when I was but a boy and aslan is there and there's lazarus long and the raven's lone song it's a world in between things of shadows and dreams where I go it seems you cannot come

that the only peace for me is a place I used to go to hide from things unknown it's not in the world where they cut you and kill you and still make you pay and heaven it's not for the gun's on the table peculiar unable to sever the hope

is a place to touch my dreams free from the passive screams but safety it's not and to go there
I know is to forfeit control an immutable choice for i've been here before and each time a smaller door and age is no key
