

Sally Oldfield, The Sun In My Eyes

Oldfield

How clear is the night!

The early flowers of the Spring are showing

How warm is the wind!

I can feel your hair in my fingers flowing

Hey! You, you are the sun in my eyes!

And I wanna come to you like the empty sky!

So you can shine in me like the endless dawn

And I can hold you, hold you through the storm.

How blue is the sky!

In your eyes I see my life unfolding

my heart is beating and the world is on fire!

I wanna drink with you this cup I'm holding!

Hey! You, you are the sun in my eyes!

And I wanna come to you like the empty sky!

So you can shine in me like the endless dawn

And I can hold you, hold you through the storm.

Hey! You, you are the sun in my eyes!

And I wanna come to you like the empty sky!

So you can shine in me like the endless dawn

And I can hold you, hold you through the storm.

Hey! You, you are the sun in my eyes!

And I wanna come to you like the empty sky!

So you can shine in me like the endless dawn

And I can hold you, hold you through the storm.

Hey! You, you are the sun in my eyes!

And I wanna come to you like the empty sky!

So you can shine in me like the endless dawn

And I can hold you, hold you through the storm.
