

Sam Nixon, The Sun Has Come Your Way

Some find it cheap, some will find it for free
They say that love isn't easy to keep
And that is why you hesitate to believe
In this good thing that you've found
Too many days by the broken TV
Colours all grey love was so hard to see
And now it's plain you hesitate to believe
But you gotta try

Cause hey - the sun has come your way
But you won't get much time
So let it change your mind
And hey - the rain will wash away
So get out there and shine
And let it change your mind

Love slips away like a breeze
In your hand
You're bound to miss when
It comes round again
So it ain't easy, I know, to believe
But you gotta try
No more cloudy skies
