

Sam Phillips, I Can't Stop Crying

I saw black and you saw red Crawled to separate corners the line went dead I closed my heart up tore your love for me to shreds

Tangled wires love can't breathe pulling tighter to my ruthless need Don't look down I want you unconsolably

I can't stop crying

Stubborn distance closes in with your assistance bitterly begin To build a wall of silence cutting soul in two Cloudy water in my eyes
I'm ashamed of words with secret knives
In dream I scream but you can't Hear me calling you

I know that this heartache is A speck in the sky of love
But it's all I feel around me
