

Sam Phillips, I Don't Want To Fall In Love

We're not lovers you and I I can't think of reasons why I should want you like that I'm stranded by my passion
The whole idea fits us like a suit gone out of fashion

As I said goodbye and drove away things I'd like to hear you say Rolled across my mind like clouds in an unexpected flurry I stumbled on a minefield where desire was still buried

I don't want to fall in love - with the idea of
I don't want to fall in love - with love

Sentimental circumstance disguised as fate with wild romance Fools me into thinking you're the water for my thirst
Not knowing what you're feeling for me only makes it worse

I don't want to fall in love - with the idea of
I don't want to fall in love - with love
