Sam Smith, To Die For

I look for yu every day every night I close my eyes from the fear from the light

As I wander down the avenue so confused guess I'll try and force a smile pink lemonade sipping on a Sunady couples holding hands on a runaway they're all posing in a picture frame whilst my world's crashing down solo shadow on a sidewalk just want somebody to die for sunshine living on a perfect day whilst my world's crashing down just want somebody to die for

I long for you just a touch of your hand you don't leave my mind lonely days I ma feeling like a fool for dreaming
