

sam tompkins, lose it all

Tell me why
They say that grown men can't cry
'Cause I'm finding it hard, I won't lie
To keep the water locked inside
Both my eyes
Everytime
I picture you raising my child
Oh, I'd walk a million miles
To watch you walking down the isle
My, oh my

When you look at me in my eyes, all I can see is purpose
Mm-mm, mm-hmm-hmm
Might look like I'm confident but underneath the surface

I don't wanna lose it all
No, I don't wanna lose it all
Ooh, ooh-oooh, ooh-oooh
'Cause I don't wanna grow old
Missin' a piece of my heart that you hold
Oh, it's my worst nightmare not lettin' you know
That if I ever lose you, I lose it all

Lately I
I've been staring at the sky
Thanking the lord that you're mine
Still sends me shivers down my spine
That you're mine

When you look at me in my eyes, all I can see is purpose, oh-oh
Mm-mm, mm-hmm-hmm
Might look like I'm confident but underneath the surface

I don't wanna lose it all
No, I don't wanna lose it all
Ooh, ooh-oooh, ooh-oooh
'Cause I don't wanna grow old
Missin' a piece of my heart that you hold
Oh, it's my worst nightmare not lettin' you know
That if I ever lose you, that I lose

It all, it all, it all
Lose
It all, it all, it all
Lose

I don't wanna lose it all
Don't make me have too lose it all
'Cause I won't grow old
Missin' a piece of my heart that you hold
I won't have those nightmare 'cause I let you know
That if I ever lose you, I lose it all
