

Samael, Year Zero

life is a road life is a plan life is a role life is more than it seems enlightened delighted confused or clear today is your day

there's a world in a world outside they're all the same when you stay inside getting the news from here and there blocking thoughts before they turn into lies switching on switching off when you're on your own you belong to yourself and the night is alright and your days get better and better in every way just slip down your sleep to enlighten tomorrow

'till you go flashing up the sky

run around get over
