

Samantha Moore, Replace U

taking it day to day living without your face looking for easy ways to fill my head losing you in a crowd keeping the feelings down so i forget where do i go from here

i tried to, tried to replace you with everything, but nothing seemed to fit i want to, but i can't replace you this emptiness is all you've left me with all this emptiness

memories start to fade i'm thinking i'll be okay chasing the pain away but is it gone
all the familiar signs are hiding behind my eyes but i can't move on

how long will i know this feeling i'm broke with pretending i'm alright cause i'm done with hiding i wanna get back to life
