

Samiam, Head Trap

have you ever tried to get away when every move you make is restrained trying to balance what you want with what's expected of you can't overlook the consequences due to your new circumstances my thoughts are mine to a point til i feel inclined to be you wouldn't you like to be alone wouldn't you rather stay at home wouldn't it be nice to wake up free without any sense of responsibility do you ever get tired of the same old place and seeing that same old face you need to find some place to go and leave your whereabouts unknown
