

Sammy Hagar, Who Has The Right?

Here's a message from the heart
Are you listening?
Some things belong to you and no one else

Oh, one more life is taken
And that's one more than God allows
And there's another on the row shouting out

Who has the right?

And there's a war out in the streets
That no one is winning
Tell me when did a human life become so cheap

And how can we take away what we did not create?
Beyond the power of the conscience
Beyond the power of the state

Tell me who, who has the right?
Well, no one has the right

Everyone's a victim
Everyone's to blame
And we are all so different, yet the same

Oh, and everyone's the master
Of their own destiny
As long as one of us is chained, none of us are free

Oh, how can we take away what we did not create?
Beyond the power of the conscience
Beyond the power of the state

Tell me who, who has the right?
Well, no one has the right

Oh, how can we take away what we did not create?
Beyond the power of the conscience
Beyond the power of the state

Tell me who, who has the right?
Well, no one has the right

Are we making a mistake here?
Well, there's no room for that

Who has the right?
No one has the right
Who has the right?
They don't have the right

Who has the right?
No one has the right
Who has the right?
We don't have the right

Who has the right?
Oh, no, the right
Who has the right?
They don't have the right

Who has the right?
No one has the right
Who has the right?

Oh no, oh no, we don't have the right
