Did you ever think about killing yourself?

Yes, many times because I don't worship this existence. So therefore it's the it's a driving force for me is to die. It's the only power I can get, you know, from the only reason why I'm still here is because I want to die in a certain way. And I want to achieve some things. I wouldn't dare to die with a weak soul, I wouldn't dare to die with a human goodness or a human light in my mind.

It's just that I want to clean my soul a little bit from the shit here, so
