

Sanctus Real, Otherside

I've been waiting for some time to live my life on the other side... from where I am to where I want to be... but you know where I'll be when it's time to ride.

I'll be right here waiting, though hard times may pass us by. and I won't be separated, 'cause I know
I don't understand my life, why plans fall through and time flies by. "maybe we could make it if do what You want to do and move like You want to move... we'll be waiting here for You.
