

Sandi Patti, Solo El Amor

Solo el amor (English)

For love I'd do almost anything.
I'd cross the widest of oceans
For love, I'd fly with an broken wing Just to taste it for a moment.
For love, I'd turn back to strongest tide;
There's no storm I wouldn't weather.
"Cause its more than a gleam in someone's eye It's what holds us all together.
But I've only known once in my lifetime Love in its purest form.
He came here for me
Suffered and then died under a crown of thorns

-Chorus-

Solo el amor only love can save me
Conquering death and the sting of the grave
Kingdoms will fall and tongues will cease, but through it all eternity love will remain Solo el amor when all else has failed me, will take me to places that i've never dreamed healing my wounds and setting me free there is nothing else worth living for

Solo el amor

II

For love the hope of humanity made the lame to walk again
For love he settled the raging sea
And he came the sinner's friend
For love he drank of his father's cup
With all my shame on his shoulders
And he offered forgiveness through his shed blood Tell me, is it y wonder That I've only known once in my lifetime Love at its purest form?

He came here for me, suffered and then died Under a crown of thorns

-Chorus-

Solo el amor only love can save me
Conquering death and the sting of the grave
Kingdoms will fall and tongues will cease,
But through it all eternity love will remain
Solo el amor when all else has failed me,
will take me to places that i've never dreamed
healing my wounds and setting me free
there is nothing else worth living for

will take me to places that i've never dreamed
healing my wounds and setting me free there's nothing else worth living for
